COUNTRY CLUB CONNECTIONS™, A DIVISION OF NEMEX, INC., SELECTED AS EXCLUSIVE WEBSITE DEVELOPER
FOR RDC GOLF GROUP

- RDC Golf Group, a leading full-service golf course and country club management organization, partners with Country Club Connections, the leading golf industry source for interactive communications solutions, to be the exclusive provider of web-based applications for all of RDC's public and private clubs and courses nationwide.

NEW JERSEY—Country Club Connections, a division of NemEx, Inc. dedicated exclusively to providing web-based communications and management solutions for country clubs and golf courses, announced its exclusive website development and hosting agreement with RDC Golf Group, headquartered in Bedminster, New Jersey.

Country Club Connections will partner with RDC Golf Group to design and deploy a comprehensive set of web-based solutions, including an integrated corporate website, interactive private communities, value-added public sites, email marketing tools, content management, and more for all of RDC's properties. This organization-wide initiative will provide RDC's staff, members and players with extended reach and convenient access to a wide range of information and offers, available 24 hours a day, from anywhere in the world.

The powerful functionality that will be provided by Country Club Connections— including interactive club calendars, online reservations, photo galleries, facilities updates, and much more— uses state-of-the art technology that is user-friendly and highly flexible. RDC will realize tremendous benefits to their business operations while customers will find it easy to keep updated and involved in club activities and events.

Ron Winarick, Senior Vice President of RDC Golf Group, believes that Country Club Connections has tremendous creative, technological and service capabilities that will address the website development and implementation needs of the corporate, private and public entities it serves. "I have worked with Country Club Connections before and we look forward to working with their team to gain the economies available by using their web-based tools for our current and future properties." Adam Lehrhoff, CEO of NemEx, Inc. states, "We are excited about supporting RDC's commitment to being a leader in golf course and country club management. Our quality products and talented people combine to provide powerful solutions that will promote interaction with and participation in their facilities. This partnership will provide value to the RDC organization and will cultivate online involvement among members and users."
